

Szabolcs Péter MD, PhD

Dr. Szabolcs Péter is the Corporate Science Fellow for Human Nutrition and Health, and Principal Scientist for Medical Sciences and Nutrition at DSM Nutritional Products Ltd. in Basel, Switzerland. He obtained his MD in General Medicine, and PhD in Health Sciences degrees at Semmelweis University, Budapest, Hungary. Dr. Péter performed his doctoral work at the Department of Nutritional Physiology of National Institute for Food and Nutrition Science, focusing on the role of lifestyle in childhood obesity prevention. After pursuing postdoctoral research on metabolic syndrome at the School of Physiology, Nutrition and Consumer Sciences of North-West University in Potchefstroom, South Africa, he was engaged at Gedeon Richter Plc. in Budapest in anti-obesity drug development. Dr. Péter is currently responsible for the Corporate Research Program and is Segment Lead for Pharma & Medical Nutrition at DSM.